PRESIDENT WIMPRESS—MAN OF THE YEAR!

A new man appears on the campus. He moves quickly and with sincere interest. The man is called president, but he means much more to the students. He is their chance for a "New Monmouth College."

The student like the man and they are intrigued with his ideas. They have tired of being good at loosing. The "new Monmouth College" and all hopes for this dream seem to include the new president.

The face of the president is happy and yet serious. He becomes involved in the students lives in both a conscious and unconscious way. His spirit, his interest, his liveliness are appreciated more than the students often acknowledge.

Welcome—Mr. President!

THE CATALOG HAS ARRIVED, THE ADMISSION BLANKS ARE SIGNED,

The luggage has been packed, and the good-byes have been said: they are off to college. They come to Monmouth from the East and the West — Chicago, New York, Peoria, Omaha. They come in search of many things.

Every year new faces are seen on campus. These faces belong to the freshmen. They are faces which are alive, expectant, and just a little confused. The freshmen are ready for whatever they will meet; the upperclassmen are ready for another year. It is a new life for the freshmen — an adventure away from home.

Orientation is the first phase of freshmanism. It is a strange time — a time of joy and surprise. It is the unpacking and arranging of the mountains of stuff from home; it is the meetings — endless meetings; it is the walk-out, the watermelon feast, and the bonfire. For the freshmen, orientation is new and different; for the upperclassmen it brings back memories of their first experience at MC. The upperclassmen smile and remember that long run through town, they remember SWAF; and they remember the wet, gooey watermelon seeds.

The days of orientation pass quickly. These days are great ones! They are busy, hurried, strange days. These days are enthusiastic ones. They are filled with making new friends, meeting that mysterious roommate, walking, and occasionally even sitting down.

The beanies are distributed among the freshmen. We watch as those red and white caps bounce up and down the hills behind Wallace Hall. We watch as the beanies stand up in line. We watch as they protest. We watch as they laugh, and learn, and grow up.

The freshmen are, of course, baffled by the episode of registration. They write their names and wonder what it all means. They try so hard to pretend they know what is happening—but so do the upperclassmen.

ONE SPECIAL PART OF COLLEGE IS HOMECOMING.

The floats have taken many hours to build. They are a combination of hard work, chicken wire, paper, smiles, and sometimes tears.

The golden horn, the handkerchief, an ivory smile, jubilant eyes — that's how to say Louis Armstrong!

The Queen steps from her seat. Her date watches as they announce her title; he seems assured that he has made a good choice.

They call it Yell Like Hell! They have fun; they smile at the others; and, when it is their turn, the others will smile at them.

THERE IS STILL MORE TO HOMECOMING AT MONMOUTH . . .

There is a football game with a busy coach, a hard working team, and plenty of fans. What else? Pretty girls!

BEING A POLITICIAN IS AN UNUSUAL JOB . . .

. . . students at a college wash their cars and hope to make a good impression. The politician also wants to make a good impression. He smiles, shakes hands, promises, and wonders. The students wonder, too. Who will be their leader?

An old leader dies . . . his flag flies over the campus. We watch the flag and remember Mr. Hoover; while the flag flutters in the wind, work and life must continue. Work and life in the greatest country in the world . . .

ONE WEEKEND . . . TWO EVENTS. THEIR PARENTS AND HALLOWEEN

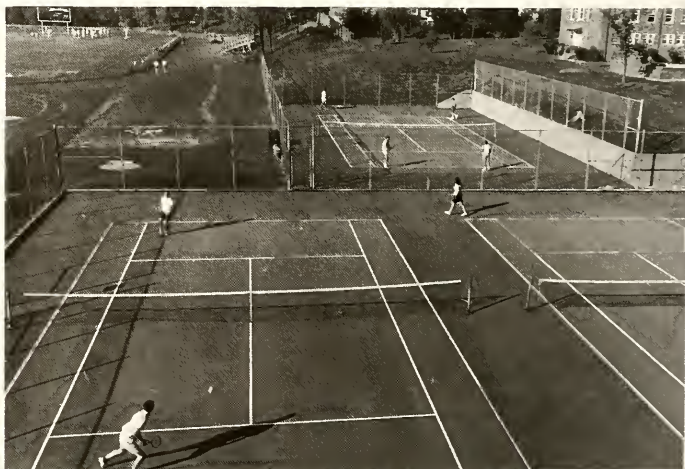

The parents pay the bills, and then once a year they arrive on campus for a visit. A father chuckles as his daughter crosses the goal line; the mother laughs nervously. The parents wait in line; they watch another football game; and they see a play in the little theater. As they drive away from the college the parents realize their children have grown older.

Halloween is a holiday of fun. A Saga party with a witch and cute kids from grade school are part of the fun. Do the college students have fun on Halloween? Do they soap windows and steal pumpkins? . . . The parents think their children have grown older.

THE SUN IS SHINING . . . IT'S STILL WARM. LISTEN . . .

. . . to the sounds of autumn play. Do you hear the wheels of the skate board noisily grinding the rough concrete? Hear the lively meet of tennis ball and racket, the squeak of the taut swing chains, the shout of a happy girl, the rustle of the leaves, and the work of the busy green army.

WELCOME SENIORS! WELCOME TO MONMOUTH COLLEGE . . .

The college students know the high school seniors expect the meetings, the openhouse, the football games, and the talent show.

Soon the weekend is over . . . the seniors take one final look at the campus. They see the athletic field, the stately buildings, the union, and the tennis courts. "That's a girls' dorm," one says. "Hmmm, I'll be sure to bring my telescope!"

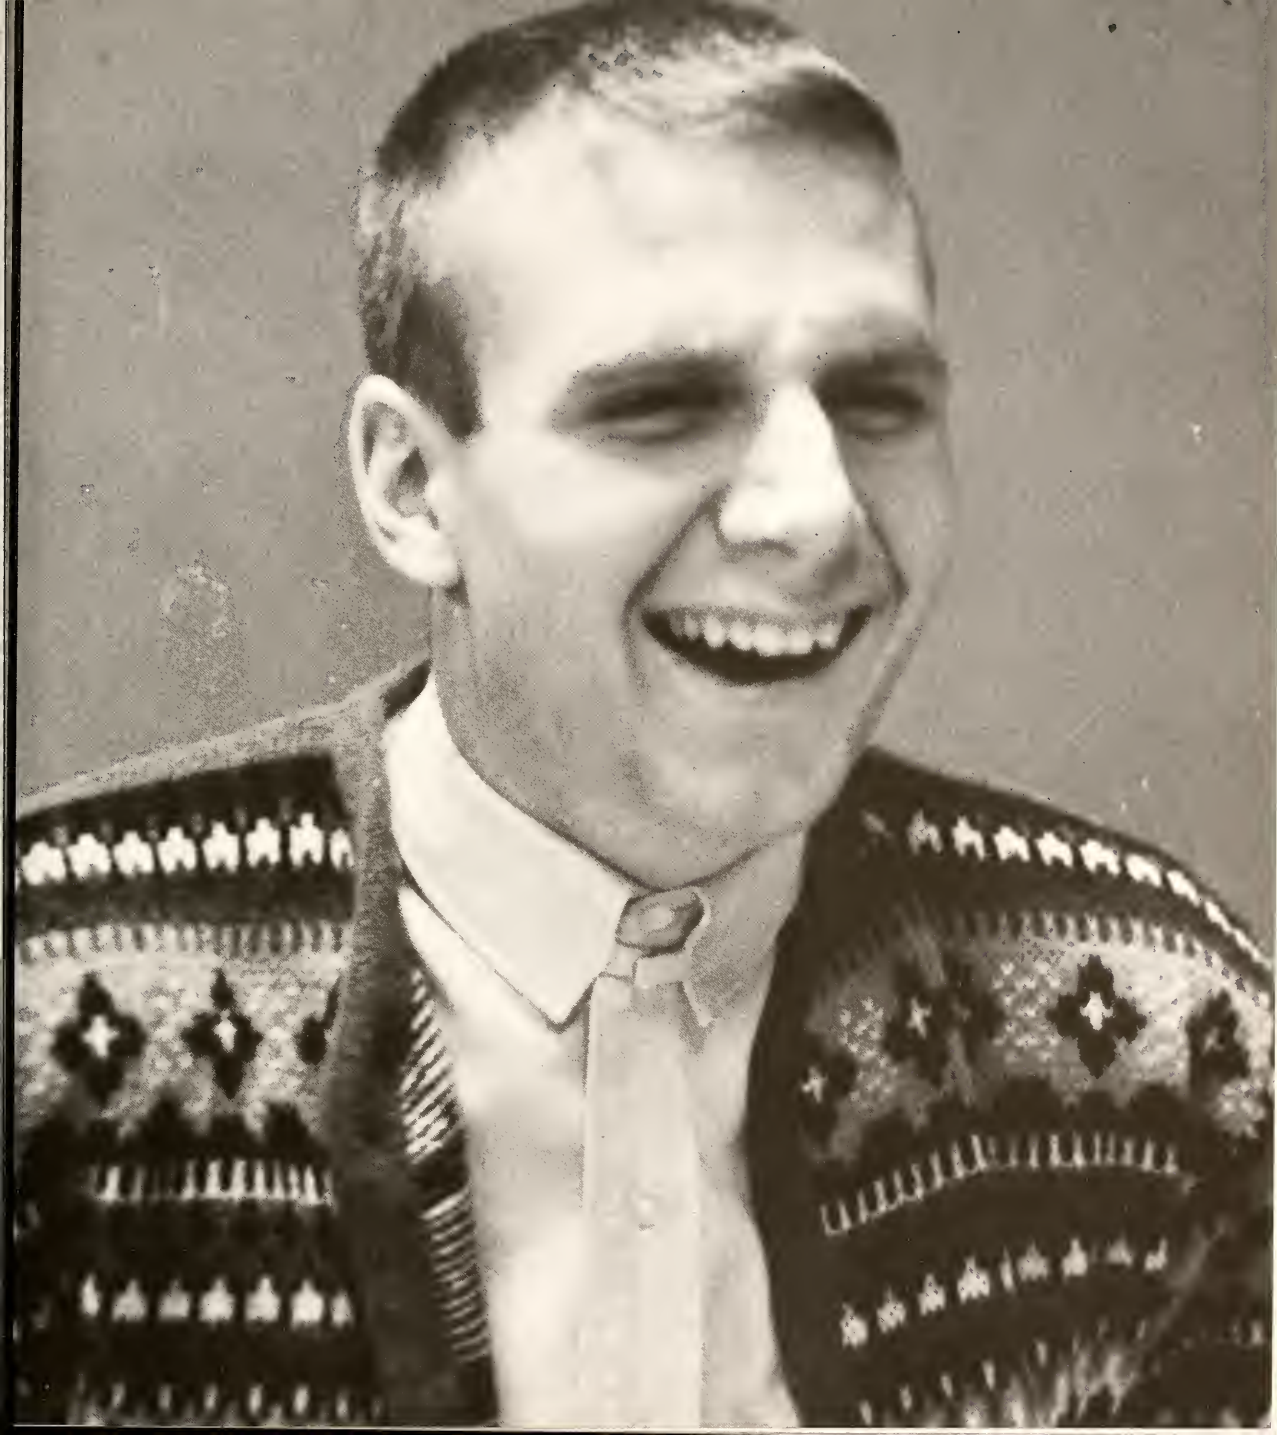

CHRISTMAS COMES WITH . . . rollicking, frolicking, and its fun, fun, fun. They are anxious for the holidays. They enjoy the parties, the snow, and the trip home. Christmas also brings finals, and the students are not always as anxious for those finals as they plan and await the happy days "after".

RUSH IS HARD WORK. THE PRESSURE IS ON: the Greeks want to make a good impression; the freshmen also strive for that instilling opinion. Often during rush people meet only faces. Later they will learn to know the heart and souls of the friends they make. They talk and ask questions; they smile and they laugh. Greeks vote; rushees wonder. Rush ends as most of the efforts are rewarded . . . And meanwhile, what has happened to the studies?

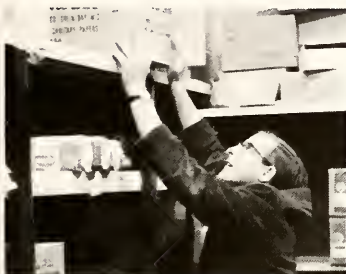

IN THE WINTER it is supposed to snow . . . and if it doesn't they still have a good time. They plan open houses and dances; and if the barren ground makes the sledding tough, rope pulls and swimming meets make a summer holiday out of a winter carnival.

FOOD CAN BE GOOD and Saga is the creator of goodness.

They seem to enjoy eating, and they surely consume plenty. Of course, behind the double doors of the Saga kitchens is the center for busy hands, busy brains, and busy feet. Preparation and planning combine, and they appreciate it. The buggy Grier picnics, the Sunday night specials, the banquets, the early breakfast lines . . . this is Saga food.

THEY ARE GOING ON A THINKING TRIP . . . some thought the thinkers should have stayed home to ponder and plan. New York, New York, is a big town; and even though they didn't win the big prize, they had a good time.

THEY PRODUCE, PRESENT, AND PREVIEW activities for their chapel programs. The results are questionable, curious, and often amazing.

The spirit of Monmouth award is given to two professors. This prize is a small token given for dedicated and unselfish service.

Actors and actresses live and relive the scenes of make-believe life . . . sometimes the make-believe world seems real.

Capering girls clown and cut up . . . they make a point in their satirical, subtle criticism.

THEY ARE GEOLOGISTS, MUSICIANS, and social workers disguised as Monmouth college students travelling to all parts of the country. They spend their spring breaks in service. They miss their families at home, they miss the Florida rendez-vous, they miss the post-finals rest. They travel and travel, learn and learn, discover and discover. Then their travelling seem to fade into a few memories . . . as they return.

AN ACTOR'S PERFORMANCE
and WUS week are linked by the word sharing.

It is a game which has no losers . . . the students, the seasoned actor, and those people all over the world benefit from often forgotten unselfishness.

THEY HAVE WAITED FOR THIS SEASON. They seem relieved and joyous as the chill of winter is lifted from their life.

A walk in the park, a kiss, a smile, and a tennis game are all part of spring. In the spring they are alive and strong. Later, much later, they will appreciate the gift of springtime. However, now they are young, and spring is only a season.

THE RIVER RISES, RISES, RISES. The swirling, murky, muddy water overflows into the surrounding valley. The students meet the challenge. Their arms are tired; their hands are cold. They move thousands of pounds of wet sand.

That old river laughs at the struggling humans who try to control its mighty force. But the bodies keep moving: they seem to forget that the river has risen and flooded the valley for hundreds of years.

INTELLIGENT, CAPABLE MEN ASSEMBLE on the college campus. They bring with them ideas which contribute to the educational experience of the student: this is the ideal purpose of the liberal arts festival. The student often ignores opportunities which come to him. He is often too concerned with other problems and dismisses an academic confrontation as unimportant. "Will I have a date this weekend?" Much too often questions like this one engulf students' minds as the intelligent, capable men continue their highly academic messages.

IN THE HOME STRETCH of the school year they have the Monmouth Relays, Queen Liz and her court, Ginny, Edie, Barb, and Judy cheer them on—and laugh as Baron takes first place.

THEY ARE THE FIGHTING SCOTS and this is their annual Scot Olympics. A laugh rises from the campus . . . they are serious, but they smile. It is a chance for them to enjoy, to have a good time, to let loose. They enjoy the bicycle races, the wheel barrowing, and the wild parachute jump. They run, they watch, the scream. The event blends into a plaid of experience. It is a combination of the colors and lines they will remember as happy, exciting, and traditional Monmouth.

THE INAUGURATION OF A PRESIDENT, a special president of Monmouth College, creates a new feeling on the campus.

Trees are planted, grass is trimmed, trees appear and disappear within a few days. An aged professor rakes the newly-sprouted grass, a co-ed pulls weeds, and a campus leader is harassed with poison ivy.

The new enthusiasm and the growing fury reaches no climax, for Monmouth must step forward in its "era of progress".

Conservatively and patiently a vital change has taken place—a change which will not stand in second place—a change which will shape and reshape a small college.

The students will someday realize they have experienced the turning point of their school's future. When the aged professor is gone, when the co-ed is a business woman, when the campus leader is a professional leader—they will remember the impact of the inauguration of the seventh president of their college.

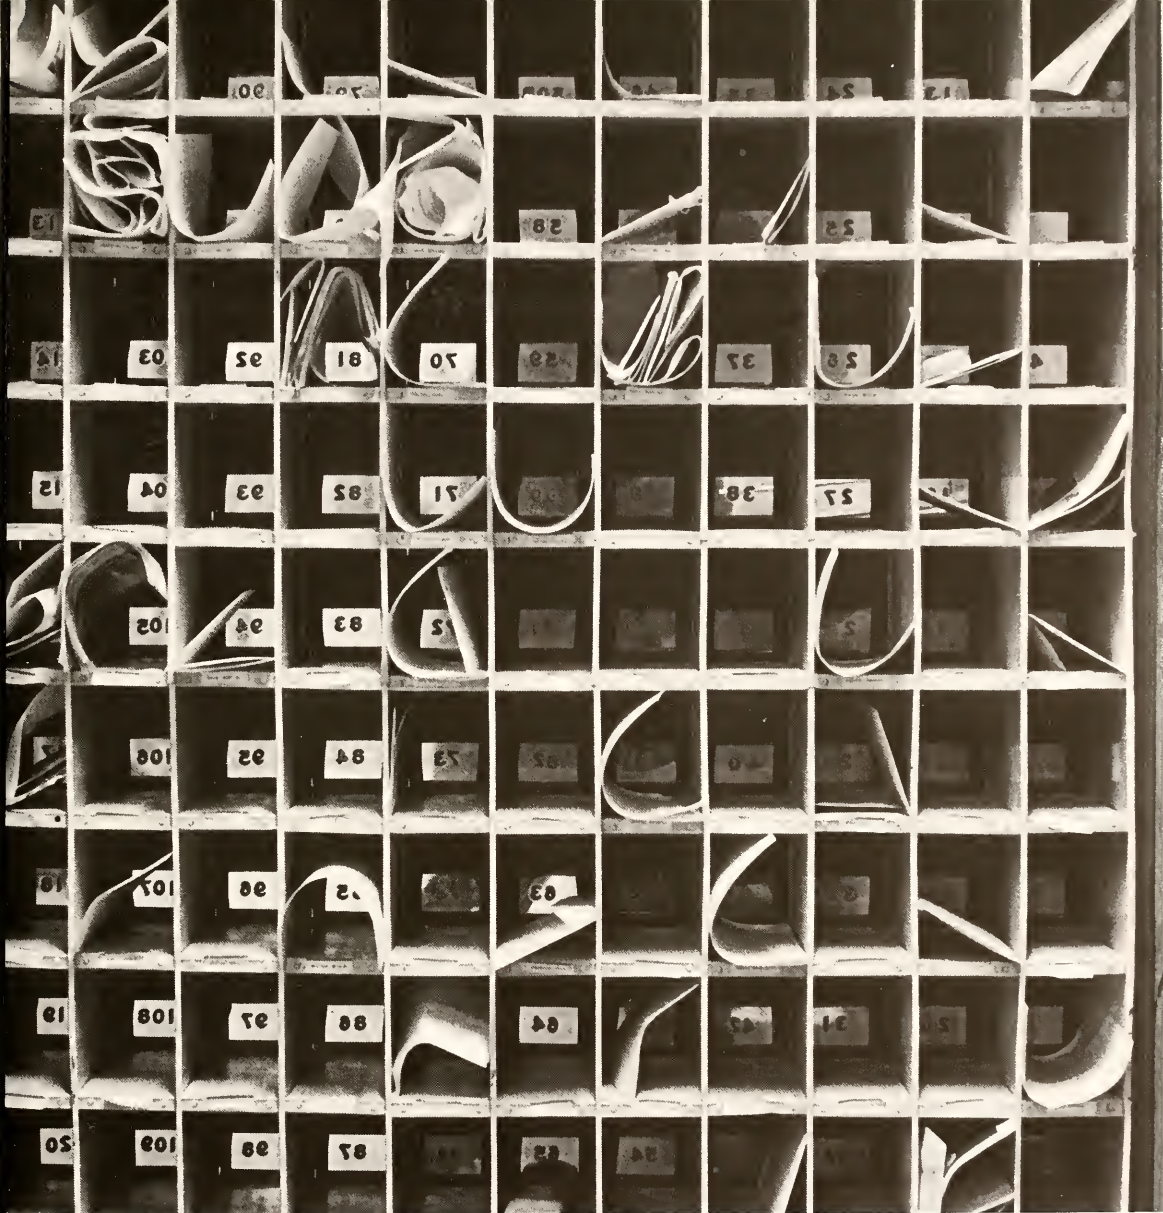

"As we stand on the threshold of the space age, as we look out upon a civilization more dynamic and more complicated than the world has ever known, as we contemplate the awful stakes for which we are playing the game of human relationships, we cannot escape the fact that once again, we must make no little plans. We must define the issues which face us and we must move boldly to meet them." President Duncan Winpress.

"Hurrah for Alpha Xi" . . . and what a year and a half this has been for us. We've really "packed" the Monmouth College choir with our music majors and voice students this year, and the music in our blood has added much to chapter enthusiasm.

Saturday morning during the year we donned our sweatshirts and cut-offs and went to Jameison Center to help paint and houseclean the newly-created institution. Our pledges were the instigators of the project, but the whole chapter participated during the year.

We were founded at Lombard College on April 17, of 1893 and came to the Monmouth campus in 1903. Our only living founder, Mrs. Bruner, is a Monmouth resident, so we've been able to maintain close ties with tradition since we began. This year we began a fund-drive to establish a tradition within the chapter: the establishment of a fund for a 3-Tiffany diamond president's quill.

With our double blue and gold, our pickle mixers, our quills and our ever-loyal spirits, we've made 1964-65 a tremendous year. Three cheers for Alpha Xi!

KAPPA DELTA

Founded on October 23, 1897 at Virginia State Normal College, we KD's became a part of the Monmouth Greek system in September of 1930.

Carrying the green and white banner high in 1964-65, we boast our scholarship trophy for 2 of the 3 terms as we were able to maintain a high over-all chapter average. However, scholarship wasn't our only accomplishment this year: our philanthropies and social whiling-dings also were placed high on our active list.

Our annual project was the support of our crippled children's hospital in Richmond, Virginia; we also gave assistance to the local Monmouth Hospital each month by making tray favors for bedfast patients.

Socially our greatest event of the year was our pledge informal second term. "Outer 1 Limits" was the theme and the party was based on a space age decor.

With a successful year behind us and 1966 ahead, the united-in spirit, and united-in-goal, Kappa deltas say "Long live the diamond of the green and white".

"We're the KKG's of old M.C. and proud to boast of it! Founded on October 13 in 1870 at Monmouth, we spent our 95th year in a more enthusiastic manner than ever!

Singing our way across campus, we visited the fraternity houses in the fall on our traditional "Pumpkin Walk". Later in the year we entertained the faculty at another annual event: the Apple Polisher.

Probably the greatest event of the year was our weekend for fathers: Dad's Day. Our dads were our dates to a basketball game to which they wore their "I am a Kappa Dad" sweatshirts. The athletic shirt was part of the initiation garb we provided for their initiation into the dad's group, "Pappa Pappa Gimmee".

With spring also came our pledges' project of painting at the Y.M.C.A. and visiting the Colonial Rest Home. Spring was also the time for our contribution to the college library in the form of new research material.

The "Duo" with the Pi Phi's and our picnic for the alumni finished the year with a "hip, hip, hurrah" and a yell for owl, the key, and fleur-de-lis.

"Alpha, here's to you". Phi Beta Phi is one of two national Greek groups at Monmouth which was founded on the Monmouth campus. It's been a great source of pride to us to be able to use our founding place, Holt House, for chapter get-togethers as well as intra-sorority parties.

We began our Pi Phi Sorority on April 28 in 1867 and have been going strong ever since. Philanthropies have played a large part in our program for the year with our little French orphan meriting much of our attention. Our pledges began the sponsorship of the little orphan by writing letters and sending gifts to her, but the entire chapter assumed the project soon after it began. As a chapter service project during the year each pledge and active in the chapter devoted at least one afternoon tutoring at Harding School. We also sent contributions and correspondence to the national philanthropic settlement school in Gatlinburg, Tennessee.

Socially our "Duo" weekend in the spring with the Kappas was our largest social affair of the year. Indivually the Pi Phi's fared well as we claim 7 queen or princess titles. 1964-65 has been a year of challenge; "We're proud to be Pi Phi's!"

The brick house bearing the maltese cross homes our fraternity which has been on campus since May 3, 1865. Nationally Alpha Tau Omega was instated September 11, 1865.

During this, our centennial year, the Taus entered our housemother Holly Fountain in the "Housemother of the Century" contest held throughout ATO chapters in the country. The celebration of the centennial was officially held in the Bahamas. Our local delegates didn't go to the Bahamas, but men did attend the dedication of the new national headquarters held at Champaign during the year.

Our ambitious pledges became campus helpers during the year as they participated in a union clean-up project as well as in the flood and inauguration projects. Socially the whole chapter claimed the Hawaiian party in May as the big time of the year. The social event was held at Delabar Park with the "Surfriders" of Peoria providing the music.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

As the newest national fraternity on campus, Sigma Alpha Epsilon will be one of three frats to move into the frat complex in 1967. We SAE's were founded nationally on March 9, 1856 at the University of Alabama and became a national group on the Monmouth campus May 10 of 1961.

We've had a good year as a chapter and also as a sponsor of our "Little Sisters of Minerva". The "Little Sisters" held a Playboy party for the chapter this year in addition to being a big asset in rush.

Scholastically our pledges came in second in the pledge averages; athletically we won first place in bowling intramurals; manually we painted the athletic field fence and bleachers as a volunteer project.

We raise our goblets high for Sig Eps and the scholarship, athletics, and music on campus for the 1964-65 year. The Sigma Phi Epsilon men finished the year with a cumulative 16-win streak in the Kiwanis Scholarship semester contest between fraternities. Athletically we were runner-ups for intramurals honors, and musically we have contributed about 50% of the male vocal force to the college choir.

Socially the Red Door Club and the Casino open house rate as tops on the social list of the fraternity founded on the Month campus in 1948. Our "social" side has also been extended to community work as we again participated as volunteers for the Warren County Heart Fund Drive.

The highlight of the year came to us when we were chosen as one of six outstanding Sig Ep chapters in the nation. Honors and recognition are to be given at the national convention to be held during the summer.

Our great "White Barn" on East Broadway has been a campus landmark since the Tekes were founded as Phi Sigma Alpha on the Monmouth campus. The oldest national fraternity at Monmouth, we have been national Tau Kappa Epsilons since 1927.

Our social events for the 1964-65 year have held wide scope—from the pledge "Streets of Laredo" open house to the annual hayride to the senior Mississippi River party. At Christmas we donned our Santa Claus garb and entertained the underprivileged Monmouth children at a Christmas party in our corner mansion.

In campus activities Tekes achieved in leadership and athletic ability as two from the house are Student Senate officers and the chapter as a whole walked off with first place in intramurals in the spring.

THETA CHI

Since 1927 the Chis have occupied our brick dwelling on East Broadway. Prior to 1942 we were known as Beta Kappas, but the local chapter merged with Theta Chi in 1942 becoming Beta Pi members of national Theta Chi.

Civically 1965 has been an involved year for the house as pledges and actives alike have become involved in Monmouth city activities. We contributed to the task force at a local church setting up a rummage sale and also participated in the blood mobile preparations. Our pledges have been active in Jameison Center projects.

Socially the Chis roared out with a beatnik open house and a pledge pizza party plus the house-rocking rush weekend with Lonnie Macks' band. The Moon Shots performed at many house activities as well as in Scots Sings and other campus talent events.

We walked off with cups for Scots Olympics and Winter Carnival events during all-campus fests. The year ended with a great weekend at Lake Bracken when our sweetheart was chosen, a formal dinner was held, and a steak cookout took place.
